Civil War Sesquicentennial Symposium and Commemorations

150 years ago...

For nearly 6 hours on March 14, 1862, 11,000 Union forces and 4,500 inexperienced and ill-equipped Confederate troops battled for control of New Bern. Eventually the Confederate line broke, and Union troops pushed through forcing a retreat of the Confederate troops.

This fierce battle in the swamps along the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad, five miles south of our city, proved a major victory for the Union and led to the ensuing occupation of New Bern for the remainder of the Civil War. The Union's presence required the Confederacy to divert troops to the defense of the railroad that might have otherwise been used in the critical battles of Virginia, making New Bern's occupation of strategic importance to the North.

The battle and many other aspects of the war as it pertained to North Carolina will be explored in Thunder in the East, The Civil War in Eastern North Carolina: A Sesquicentennial Symposium presented by the New Bern Historical Society in partnership with Tryon Palace March 9 and 10. The Symposium begins at an Evening Reception with the Symposium Speakers, Friday, March 9, 7:00 p.m.- 8:30 p.m. This Evening Reception is ticketed as part of the Symposium and will be held at the historic Attmore-Oliver House. Thunder in the East, The Civil War in

eted educational program Saturday, March 10 with registration at 8:00 a.m., lectures from 9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m., followed by a panel discussion ending at 6:00 p.m. It will be held at Cullman Performance Hall at the North Carolina History Center, and is limited to 200 registrants. ## 2012 Spring Historic Homes & Gardens Tour

On April 13 and 14, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., homeowners will open their doors so the public can visit some of the most beautiful and interesting homes in New Bern's historic district. The 2012 Spring Historic Homes & Gardens Tour will provide a behind-the-scenes look at 11 homes and gardens that are important to our town's past and present. Several homeowners will be opening both first and second floors in their homes. Patrons will tour the living quarters of these homes, learning about the original architecture, renovations, and furnishings. In addition to the homes and gardens, many downtown houses of worship will be open for tours.

Among gardens open to the public is the Tryon Palace garden, which should be in full bloom. Tryon Palace's Annual Heritage Plant Sale will also be held on the Tryon Palace grounds during the tour. Spring Homes Tour ticketholders will have the opportunity to purchase a discounted one or two day pass to the Tryon Palace Historic Sites when presenting their Spring Historic Homes and Gardens Tour ticket at Tryon Palace's ticket desk at the NC History Center.

Coffee, tea, and delicious baked goods will be available throughout the day. The Blades' Veranda Cafe is located on the corner of Middle and Johnson Streets. While at the Café you can purchase seeds and potted herbs provided by the Palace. A hospitality station also will be available to patrons on the grounds of the Attmore-Oliver House, 511 Broad Street.

Battlefield Park Has a New Cannon

A non-firing replica of a model 1841 six pound field cannon has been donated to the New Bern Historical Society and is now permanently displayed at the New Bern Civil War Battlefield Park. This was the smallest caliber smoothbore cannon used in the early years of the Civil War by both the Union and Confederacy. Several of these cannons were used in the defense of New Bern during the Battle of New Bern in March of 1861.

Linda Lore donated the cannon in memory of her husband Richard K. Lore, former historian of the Historical Society, and in memory of the soldiers who fought in the Battle of New Bern.

Information about the dedication of the cannon will be forthcoming.

Historical Society President's Message

As we approach the last days of winter, we look forward to the coming months that are so full of activity. The Historical Society's Civil War Symposium, Thunder in the East, will offer a unique opportunity to hear nationally recognized speakers as we approach the 150th anniversary of the Battle of New Bern. The Spring Homes and Gardens Tour, the Civil War Adventure Day, the Lunch and Learns and so many other programs are key to the accomplishment of our mission to educate and involve people in the commemoration of our history. In the coming weeks, the Board will spend time analyzing and prioritizing the needs for stewarding our properties, both at the in town campus associated with the Attmore-Oliver House and the Battle of New Bern battlefield. There is always much to be done, and we are grateful to all of those people who give of their time and resources. A democracy can thrive only when citizens are informed, including an appreciation of the important decisions of the past. We are proud that we can play a part in encouraging learning from the past in order to make the best decisions for the future.

Many MEMBERSHIP RENEWALS are due June 30. We will be mailing membership renewal information in May. Please look for those in your mail. Renewing your membership is very important. We could not exist without your membership support. Thank you!

To honor Nelson McDaniel for his work as Chairman of New Bern's 300th Committee, a scholarship was established in his name. Last year a local teacher was selected to travel to China. For the next two years and hopefully well beyond, a Craven County teacher will be selected to travel and study abroad with all expenses paid by the Nelson McDaniel Scholarship through the Center for International Understanding. Given Nelson's love for learning and travel, this is a wonderful and fitting way to honor him. If interested in donating to the scholarship fund please send your check written to: CIU Council, Attention Cindy Defoor, 100 East Six Forks Road, Suite 300, Raleigh, NC 27609. Please indicate that the donation is for The Nelson McDaniel Scholarship.

Lunch and Learn: Great Programs

On March 14, the 150th anniversary of the Battle of New Bern, our popular Lunch and Learn speaker Skip Riddle will be presenting an unusual story about participants in the battle. The Battle of New Bern: Who Would Have Thought That?... a Journey Through Time will explain how two poets, a song writer, two governors, a professor, Tiffany's, three flags and a cannon have links to the battle. Meal choices are Chicken New Bern with Mushrooms in a sherry cream sauce over pasta or Pork Tenderloin with Marsala Sauce and garlic smashed potatoes. It was spring of 1865, the Civil War was coming to an end, and Union soldiers were guarding the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. In this setting, Union Gen. Smith D. Atkins was introduced to Ella Swain, the youngest daughter of University President David L. Swain. A neighbor recalled, "They exchanged eyes and a wooing followed." The wooing led to an engagement and then a marriage that captivated some and angered many. The story of this brave couple is told by Suzy Barile, their great-great granddaughter, in Undaunted Heart: The True Story of a Southern Belle & a Yankee General. Hear her tell their life and love stories at our Thursday, May 24 Lunch and Learn.

On Wednesday, September 12, Kay Williams, Executive Director of Tryon Palace, will launch our 2012-13 Lunch and Learn series with a program on what you don't know about the women behind the rebuilding of Tryon Palace.

All Lunch and Learn programs are held at The Chelsea Restaurant, at 11:30 a.m. Programs include a plated lunch. Please stop by our office at 511 Broad Street or call 638-8558 for reservations. Seating is limited.

Young Historians Visit Historical Architecture

On Friday, Nov. 18, teacher Cille Griffith and fifth graders at the Epiphany School joined Buzz Mead for their annual meeting and tour of the New Bern Historic District. Greeting the group were the faithful leaders from past years: Nelson McDaniel, Paul Switzer and Paul White. Mayor Whitford mysteriously 'returned' to life and shared some of the challenges he faced while in office in New Bern.

From Buzz Mead's Old Goat Club on Johnson Street, students set out on foot to locate and hear more about historical landmarks on Front, Hancock, Johnson, and New Streets. Prior to the tour, students had benefitted from several months of study using NC Architecture Heritage Education Lessons, photographed and written by Richard Lore, and funded by the Kellenberger Historical Foundation. The students found it fascinating to identify various architectural styles that they had seen in photos. With the help of their resourceful guides, students were able to relate styles with events and situations in history.

In addition to the sidewalk tours and talks, students were invited into First Presbyterian Church, where Jerry Elliott gave an historical overview of the architecture construction, and J.T. Ellenberger explained the history of the Charles Fisk Organ. He then shared a brief organ recital with the students. From there, the students journeyed to the Fireman's Museum where they embarked on a "scavenger hunt" with clues from long ago.

The day ended with a visit to New Bern's waterfront where the Ada Mae stood waiting with none other than Pirate Ben Crooked (aka Ben Bunn)! This friendly pirate shared the history of the famous pirates that sailed the coast of North Carolina. Students opened his treasure box at the end to discover that real treasure is often hidden in good books!

It was a day of discovery, learning, and fun...made possible by volunteers who annually invest time and energy to share New Bern's history with some of our youngest and enthusiastic historians.

'Compare/Contrast' essays were written by the students after their exploratory day in historical New Bern. These essays will be displayed in booklet form during Spring Historic Homes & Gardens Tour, April 13-14.

Harriett Marks Scholarship

The Harriett Marks Scholarship was established in 1968 under the terms of the will of Miss Harriett Marks as a memorial to the O. Marks family.
