Happy New Year!

It was an incredible year for the Society, filled with many great memories as we reflect on the accomplishments. It's a true joy to serve our community in this capacity, and we all have so much to be proud of.

Our annual events remain community and tourist favorites as we continue to see growth in ticket sales each year. I'm proud to report that Ghostwalk, Hallowed Ground Lantern Tour, and the Heritage Homes Tour aren't going anywhere! These popular events connect us with thousands of history-lovers each year, and we have a winning recipe that delivers the perfect blend of education and entertainment. I continue to be in awe of our very talented volunteers that bring these huge productions to life. We are also fortunate to have the best community partners and sponsors, many that you will find on the back page of each newsletter.

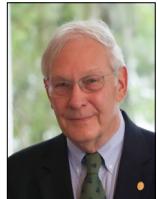

Our entire New Bern community was heartbroken over the recent loss of Mr. Howard "Music Man" Matthews. Here with the Historical Society, Howard was such an energetic and uplifting member, always giving his time and talents to play music during the Homes Tour and our Social Events. I want to share one of my favorite memories from 2025 during the Homes Tour here at the Attmore Oliver House. I witnessed Society Member, Faye Cress, give Howard a beautiful guitar as a gesture of appreciation for all that he did for us.

I am comforted by memories like these, and actions like these are what makes our organization so special. The New Bern Historical Society brings together some of the most generous and inspiring people to help us continue an amazing legacy of storytelling for our great community!

None of that changes for 2026. Our education programming is set for the year ahead, research articles are being prepared, and our committees are actively preparing for the big events to come! We remain committed to researching, documenting, and sharing every aspect of New Bern's history, and I am thrilled to have your loyal support as we continue this mission. Let's make it another historic and memorable year!

Windmills on the Coast...by Jim Hodges, NBHS Curator

Over the years, the New Bern Historical Society has been extremely fortunate by having not only New Bern and Craven County residents, but individuals near and far who donate family mementos to the Society that have a significant connection to our area's history. During my tenure as curator, it has been my intent to expand the collection but always being selective as to what is accepted. Although the Society's home, the Attmore-Oliver House, is a large structure, I am always mindful of available space to tastefully display artifacts and not clutter. Of course, "what's in the attic" does get a bit congested.

In 2013, the Historical Society received from the widow of a past Board Member a collection of framed Harper's Weekly pictorials from the Civil War era. Although there is direct New Bern and Craven County provenance for some of the prints, several others were more relevant for other eastern North Carolina areas. One print, in particular, that caught my attention was entitled the "Bombardment of Fort Macon" and in the left corner was a windmill. I have always been receptive to artistic license but somewhat confused as to the accuracy depicted in the print.

Another situation surfaced a couple of years ago when the Society received a substantial collection from a local New Bern family. One photograph that I came across rekindled my interest in windmills. This was a single black & white image (8" height, 9 1/2" width) originally from a portfolio of photographs entitled "America Photographs" that covered points of scenic and historic interest in North America and was published in 1894. The title of this image is the "Beach at Beaufort Harbor" and shows two boys on the beach with a windmill in the background.

Gracie Bender & Jim Hodges

At this point, further investigation into the windmills of eastern North Carolina was warranted and pursued. Several articles surfaced that provided detailed insight. Windmills in North Carolina date to the mid eighteenth century and were used to grind wheat/corn or to pump water. There were basically two types of windmills – the post mill design and the tower or smock design. The post mill type seems to be preferred because it was less expensive to build. By 1900, it is documented that 155 windmills had existed along eastern North Carolina but their eventual disappearance was due to the introduction of steam and gas-powered mills.

Although there were 3 windmills in Craven County, an astounding 65 were in Carteret County representing 42% of all the coastal windmills.

Recognizing the significance of the windmill history in Carteret County, I contacted Gracie Bender, Executive Director of the History Museum of Carteret County in Morehead City and shared this interesting history with her. Although she was aware of the early existence of windmills in Carteret County, the museum did not have a copy of the Harper's Weekly "Bombardment of Fort Macon" nor a copy of the "Beach at Beaufort Harbor."

Growing our collection at the New Bern Historical Society is certainly important, but even more important is being collegial and finding the most appropriate home for a "piece of history" and doing the right thing. In the spirit of sharing, the two windmill-related pieces were presented to the History Museum of Carteret County. They were graciously accepted and genuinely appreciated.

For your Annual Fund Contributions!

A heartfelt thanks to those who have contributed to the Annual Fund! With the rising costs of food, venues, building supplies, and other expenses, the Annual Fund is critical to help us cover operating costs. Any gift of any size truly makes a difference. We'll be highlighting contributors in the spring newsletter. We are grateful for your trust and humbled by your generosity.

thank you

Hallowed Ground Lantern Tour

March 19 - 21, 2026
6:00 - 9:00 pm

Tickets on sale February 6!
Online Reservations Required

*Take an evening, lantern-lit walk through the Hallowed Ground of Battlefield Park.
Hear moving stories of courage & conviction from the past.*

The Historical Society's Hallowed Ground Lantern Tour returns for its fifth year! Take a 60-minute guided walk through the wooded battlefield trails, where costumed reenactors will share inspiring stories about life in New Bern's Civil War past. You'll hear about the Sisters of Mercy assisting those wounded at New Bern, the evacuation of the city, the forming of the United States Colored Troops, the USS Underwriter and more!

Not a battlefield tour or a program about the war, these are poignant human stories of civilians, soldiers, and the formerly enslaved. These gripping narratives are largely based on letters, diaries, and contemporaneous accounts.

The Marks Scholarship was established in a trust for the estate of Miss Harriett Marks as a memorial to the O. Marks family. The Taylor Scholarship complements and supplements the Marks Scholarship. It was created in 2015 by J. M. Hodges, Jr. to honor the memory of his grandparents. These scholarships are awarded annually based on both academic performance and financial need.

The Harriet Marks and John R. & Alice Land Taylor Scholarships are awarded to a senior graduating from New Bern High School and contribute to the tuition, books, board or lodging at an accredited college, university, or other institution of higher learning. They are renewable for three succeeding years if academic standards are maintained.

We are very proud of the academic records of our scholarship recipients over the years, and we look forward to contributing to more students who will maintain this tradition. Scholarship applications are available on the New Bern Historical Society website:

www.newbernhistorical.org/scholarships and on the New Bern High School website.

The 2026 scholarship application deadline is Friday, March 20, 2026.

Historical Society President's Message...by Joe Hunt

We are at the end of another calendar year for the New Bern Historical Society. We have had a good year; our programs continue to be well received, and we are fortunate to have a strong and capable staff, a loyal Board of Directors, and we are truly blessed with hundreds of dedicated volunteers. Our volunteers are exceptional and are the reason all of our events run so smoothly and successfully. Their energy, commitment, and professionalism make a real difference in everything we do, from planning and organizing to welcoming guests and ensuring each program reflects the mission of the Society. We are deeply grateful for their contributions and the pride they take in supporting the history and culture of New Bern.

Even though the Society is in an advantageous position due to our volunteers and many exceptional Directors, it is important that we continue to evaluate what we do. By examining similar events, reviewing our own programs, and listening carefully to feedback from our volunteers and supporters, we can find new ways to improve and grow. Reflection, adaptability, and openness to new ideas will help ensure that the Society remains vibrant, relevant, and successful for years to come.

If you have ideas, suggestions, or thoughts on how we can enhance our programs or operations, please let us know. Your input is invaluable and helps guide the ongoing success of the New Bern Historical Society, ensuring that together we continue to preserve and celebrate our community's rich history.

Kathleen with our spooky "friend" at Ghostwalk

Kathleen Marty is our Volunteer Spotlight for the quarter! Talk about bringing the greatest enthusiasm to each and every event, Kathleen is truly a pleasure to work with! We've had her support for years with selling tickets, working in the office, assisting with the newsletter, and even bringing cheer to the long lines during Ghostwalk and Homes Tour! And, if there's an opportunity to come in costume, we can count on Kathleen to add to the excitement. There isn't a thing she can't do!

With so many events and administrative requirements that go on throughout the year, we are extremely fortunate to have the time and talents from someone as passionate and generous as Kathleen. You may also see her when she is working at Tryon Palace - she truly loves her New Bern history!

We simply cannot conduct our mission without our incredible volunteers, so we hope that if you're out there reading this and want to get involved, please give us a call.

A heartfelt thanks for all you do, Kathleen - inspiring us with your love for the Historical Society!

Battlefield Park News...by Mark Trail, Battlefield Adjutant

We have been hard at work at the battlefield, keeping the trails clean and clear of debris. During the latter part of the summer, lightning struck a very large tree—more than 80 feet tall—near the 26th North Carolina Monument. After evaluating the situation, it was determined the tree needed to be taken down for safety reasons. Kudos go to Pamlico Tree Service; after placing a call on Monday, the tree was safely on the ground by Wednesday. They have always treated us well, and we appreciate their prompt and professional service.

Over the last few weeks, we have also completed several bridge repairs due to rotted timbers. These repairs are essential to maintaining safe access throughout the park. Work at Battlefield Park is an ongoing process. During the last quarter, our trails were maintained, grass and brush were cut back on the drill field, bridges and benches were scrubbed and cleaned, and repair work was completed as needed.

In addition to maintenance efforts, continual community outreach—especially to youth—remains an important part of our work at the battlefield. The 3rd Annual Campout by Scout Pack 132 took place the weekend of November 7–9 and was a great success. Despite some rain, more than 50 scouts attended, many weathering the elements and fully embracing the outdoor experience. The scouts were led on a guided tour of the battlefield, sharing its history and engaging the scouts throughout the weekend. We also welcomed a recent field trip that included 10 students and two teachers, providing an educational opportunity to experience the park firsthand.

New volunteers are always welcome. We work Tuesday and Thursday mornings from approximately 7:00 to 10:00 a.m. and invite anyone interested in helping preserve this historic site to join us.
